

Royal Signals Museum

Oral History Project

Did you serve in World War Two, Korea, BAOR or other theatres of operation ?

As we approach our Centenary The Corps Museum together with the Royal Signals Association are recording your stories and reminisces to supplement current and future displays, preserve memories and to educate and enlighten future generations.

The story of the time you served in the Royal Signals is an invaluable part of our Corps history. What may be unremarkable to you will fascinate others.

Share Your Memories - Help Preserve Corps Heritage

If you would like to take part in this Oral History Project or find out more drop into the Museum and we will be pleased to explain all or contact us on 01258 482683
